JOHN ALLEN NELSON

Baritone

Irish-American baritone John Allen Nelson is known for his “deliciously hearty sound” with “uniformity from top to bottom” paired with his clean musicality. His “full body approach” to acting always makes him an audience favorite.

In the 2024 season Mr. Nelson debuts with Bel Cantanti Opera in Washington D.C. as Simone in Gianni Schicchi and in the title role of Aleko. Later in the season he debuts in his home state of Minnesota at Duluth Superior Symphony Orchestra as the bass soloist in Mozart's Vespers and returns to Pacific Symphony as Schaunard in La Bohème. In the 2023 season Mr. Nelson jumped in to the title role of West Bay Opera's Don Giovanni and debuted with the Pacific Symphony as Marullo in Rigoletto and with Northern Lights Music Festival as Marcello in La Bohème. He also returned to the Spoleto Festival as Nicholas in Barber's Vanessa and reprised one of his signature roles of Escamillo in The Tragedy of Carmen with Seaglass Theater Company. In 2022, Mr. Nelson made his company debuts with Opera Ithaca as Count Almaviva in Le Nozze di Figaro, with the Spoleto Festival as Alcindoro in La Bohème and with Lubbock Symphony as Imperial Commissioner and Sharpless cover in Madama Butterfly. He also returned to the Bar Harbor Music Festival where he sang Schaunard in La Bohème. In 2021, he appeared as Guglielmo in Così fan tutte with the Bar Harbor Music Festival and made his company debut as the Ufficiale and Figaro cover in Il Barbiere di Siviglia with Finger Lakes Opera.

In 2020, Mr. Nelson revisited the title role in Don Giovanni in a groundbreaking pandemic-era live production via Zoom with Kor Productions. In the 2019/2020 season, he debuted with Opera Santa Barbara as Di Cosimo in Il Postino and Yamadori, the Imperial Commissioner, and the cover of Sharpless in Madama Butterfly. Due to the Covid-19 pandemic, his appearance as Mercutio in Roméo et Juliette with Opera Santa Barbara was canceled, as was his return to Odyssey Opera as the Earl of Essex in Edward German's comedy Merrie England. In the 2018/2019 season, Mr. Nelson made his New York City Opera debut as Giordano in the world premiere of Stonewall, and also debuted with Boston Lyric Opera in a workshop of Joseph Summer's Hamlet. He returned to his home state of Minnesota for Opera on the Lake's summer production of Die Fledermaus, in which he portrayed Dr. Falke.

Mr. Nelson made his Utah Opera debut as Marcello as a last-minute fill-in in their season-opening production of La Bohème. He also appeared as Escamillo in Peter Brook's The Tragedy of Carmen with Skylark Opera Theatre and as Moralès in Carmen with the Lakes Area Music Festival. He made his Odyssey Opera debut as King Edward III in Donizetti's L'assedio di Calais, as well as his Rhode Island Civic Orchestra debut as the Bass Soloist for Handel's Messiah in the fall. In seasons prior, Mr. Nelson appeared as Pa Joad in The Grapes of Wrath with Sugar Creek Opera, as Dandini in La Cenerentola with Boston's NEMPAC Opera Project, and as Guglielmo in Così fan tutte and Demetrius in A Midsummer Night's Dream, both with Boston University Opera Institute. The Boston Musical Intelligencer said of his Dandini, “Nelson brought a deliciously hearty sound: his bold, rounded singing elicits the same earthly satisfaction as a great glass of Cabernet...He's a natural choice for this role and others of its type.” His Demetrius was described as “a pleasure to listen to...His vocal performance left nothing to be desired.”

Mr. Nelson has appeared with Minnesota Opera as Schaunard in La Bohème, Mandarin in Turandot, and Zimmerkellner in Arabella. As a Young Artist with Opera Colorado, he sang the roles of Count Almaviva in Le Nozze di Figaro, the Old Gypsy in Il Trovatore, the Father in Hansel and Gretel, and Zuniga in Carmen. While with Des Moines Metro Opera as an Apprentice Artist, he covered Don Giovanni -- a role he also performed at UMKC -- and with the Brevard Music Festival he sang Belcore in L'Elisir d'Amore and Count Almaviva in Le Nozze di Figaro.

An active interpreter of concert works, in 2016 Mr. Nelson sang the baritone solos in John Rutter's Mass of the Children with Masterworks Chorale in Boston and Vaughan Williams' Five Mystical Songs Masterworks Chorale (Boston). He has been the featured soloist in Händel's Messiah with the Hyperion Singers and the Heartland Symphony, Fauré's Requiem with Masterworks Chorale (Boston), and as a special guest artist at his alma mater, St. John's University, in a program of both Bruckner's and Kodály's Te Deum.

John Allen Nelson completed his residency at Boston University Opera Institute in spring 2016. He holds a Master of Music degree from the University of Missouri Kansas City Conservatory of Music and a Bachelor of Arts in Vocal Performance from St. John's University in his native Minnesota.

Reviews

"From note one, it was apparent that Nelson possesses a baritone as smooth as liquid silver, and the proper mixture of charisma and child-like glee to portray one of opera's favorite bad boys"-Michael J. Vaughn, Palo Alto Weekly
February, 2023

"No one summed up the night better than the baritone:

'Try not to be distracted by the crowd,' John Allen Nelson sang as the gallant bullfighter Escamillo. 'Dark eyes are watching you.'.....Allen Nelson brought a grandness to the show without straying from its intimate world. Most impressively,...[he] succeeded at toning down the theatrics they might use for bigger operas, turning into film actors who happened to be singing. This was what made the show powerful on such a small scale." -Hailey Colwell, MNPlaylist
February, 2017

"As Dandini, Nelson brought a deliciously hearty sound: his bold, rounded singing elicits the same earthy satisfaction as a great glass of Cabernet. Equally effective, his acting was powered by a full-body approach to physical comedy. He is an engaging presence with sharp comic instincts: relishing his Prince-For-A-Day status, Nelson swaggered, glorying in his short-lived license to give orders to his master. He's a natural choice for this role and others of its type..."-Kate Stringer,
THE BOSTON MUSICAL INTELLIGENCER, 2016

"Demetrius was sung by John Allen Nelson on Sunday afternoon, and while I still cannot get over the purple suit, Nelson's auburn hued voice with a uniformity from top to bottom was a pleasure to listen to. His vocal performance left nothing to be desired. Though there were blatantly aggressive words thrown at Helena, the kindness in his demeanor, and the warmth of his voice undermined the mean-spirited text. It is no wonder that Helena continued to pursue him into the woods, and eventually prevailed."-Joshua Collier, THE BOSTON MUSICAL INTELLIGENCER, 2016

"John Allen Nelson, an overtly masculine presence as Marcello ... had electrically charged interactions ... his robust portrayal produced an unusually potent comedic moment in the final act when, as Marcello satirizing female modesty, Nelson's momentary switch to a tinny falsetto was rendered all the more humorous by contrast to his otherwise hearty sound."-Kate Stringer, THE BOSTON MUSICAL INTELLIGENCER, 2015

"John Allen Nelson, 'a perfect fit for Count Almaviva' ... was at his best when venting his suspicions in 'Hia gia vinta la causa...Vendro mentr'io sospiro.'" -Laura McDowell, CLASSICAL VOICE OF NORTH CAROLINA, 2011
